

Lake City Counseling is hiring a full-time, salaried peer support or recovery coach in Hayden, ID at a male recovery/re-entry house. The position works over the weekends with men who have full time jobs during the week and attend treatment at night Monday-Thursday (depending on their individual treatment plan). The peer support or recovery coach who is selected for the position will be trained in SMART recovery and will be responsible for supporting peers in practicing basic living skills and linking with community supports. A male peer support / recovery coach is preferred for the current position at the men's house, and a female position will be available in the near future when a women's house has been established.
